Preventative maintenance is the key to the automotive fountain of youth. Let Tom Torbjornsen show you the way!

This best-selling textbook addresses the need for an introduction to econometrics specifically written for finance students. Key features:

- Thoroughly revised and updated, including two new chapters on panel data and limited dependent variable models
- Problem-solving approach assumes no prior knowledge of econometrics emphasising intuition rather than formulae, giving students the skills and confidence to estimate and interpret models
- Detailed examples and case studies from finance show students how techniques are applied in real research
- Sample instructions and output from the popular computer package EViews enable students to implement models themselves and understand how to interpret results
- Gives advice on planning and executing a project in empirical finance, preparing students for using econometrics in practice
- Covers important modern topics such as time-series forecasting, volatility modelling, switching models and simulation methods
- Thoroughly class-tested in leading finance schools.

Based on the experience of many countries in the WHO European Region and the advice of experts, this guide outlines some of the steps prison systems should take to reduce the public health risks from compulsory detention in often unhealthy situations, to care for prisoners in need and to promote the health of prisoners and prison staff. This requires that everyone working in prisons understand how imprisonment affects health, what prisoners' health needs are, and how evidence-based health services can be provided for everyone needing treatment, care and prevention in prison. Other essential elements are being aware of and accepting internationally recommended standards for prison health; providing professional care with the same adherence to professional ethics as in other health services; and, while seeing individual needs as the central feature of the care provided, promoting a whole-prison approach to care and promoting the health and well-being of people in custody.
