When your chance for getting into college and your date for the prom are all on the line... Sixteen-year-old Samantha Taylor is used to having things go her way. She's head cheerleader and has all the right friends and a steady stream of boyfriends. But when she tanks the SATs, her automatic assumptions about going to college don't appear to be so automatic anymore. She determines that her only hope for college admission is to win the election for student body president. Unfortunately, with her razor wit and acid tongue, she's better suited to dishing out insults than winning votes. When she brashly bets her classmate Logan that she can go two weeks without uttering a single insult, Samantha immediately realizes that she may have bitten off more than she can chew. And when her current boyfriend dumps her, less than three weeks before the prom, it couldn't be a worse time to be forced to keep her opinions to herself. Finding a new boyfriend will be a challenge now that Logan shadows her every move, hoping to catch her slipping back into her old ways. Samantha is determined to win the election and find a dream date for the prom, no matter what it takes. After all . . . all's fair in love and war (and high school!).

Elizabeth Bennet discovered she had a particular sensitivity even though it came from grief. When people die, their souls are met by a departed loved one as an attendant to escort them across to the afterlife. She witnesses that it is possible for the living to follow the dead to the next world when her mother dies and Elizabeth follows her grandmother as she escorts her mother to the next world. Few believe her, and the Bennet's loss changes the dynamics of the family. When Elizabeth is invited to London, she meets two cousins: Colonel Fitzwilliam, and Mr. Darcy. While they both admire her, it is Darcy who captures her heart, and they fall in love. Circumstances part the couple when she is unexpectedly called home to Hertfordshire. Fitzwilliam Darcy has spent many years enjoying the delights of the London Season when he meets a country miss from Hertfordshire which has unpleasant memories for him as it's the place where his father died. But her dark eyes, charm and bewilder him, and Darcy finds himself falling in love. He is slow to declare himself, and Elizabeth escapes. Only after she is gone does he realize how besotted he is. Darcy pursues Elizabeth to the country to claim her which leads Darcy, Elizabeth, and Colonel Fitzwilliam on an extraordinary journey through another world. There is a love stronger than death in this reverse-roles retelling of Orpheus.

When it comes to love and chocolate, it's game on... When traveling chocolatier Vivian Dawson comes to Marietta to open Delish, a chain chocolate shop, she's unfazed by angry locals. She's not looking for friends—she's the competition, and her target is Sage O'Dell's Copper Mountain Chocolates. To create marketing buzz and a friendly rivalry, Vivian declares Delish's hot chocolate the best in town and will prove it at Marietta's Christmas Stroll. Everyone takes a side, and Vivian hopes a certain deputy will take hers for another unforgettable night. Sheriff's deputy Reuben Price can't believe his luck when the woman he's been thinking about since a rebound one-night stand opens a shop in town. He's shocked when Marietta's normally friendly citizens become hostile, but he's ready to welcome Vivian with open arms and more. As Vivian is seduced by the charming town and the sexy deputy, she wonders if she's finally found a home. But when tragedy strikes before Christmas, will Vivian run like she always has or will her growing feelings convince her to stay?

Lady Mina Tretheway knows she's destined for greater things than her fancy boarding school, where she's being taught to be a proper English lady. It's 1918, and war is raging across Europe. Unlike her father and brother, who are able to assist in the war effort, Mina is stuck sorting out which fork should be used with which dinner course. When Mina receives a telegram that's written in code, she finally has her chance to do something big. She returns to her childhood home of Hallington Manor, joined by a family friend, Lord Andrew Graham, and a dashing and mysterious young American, Lucas. The three of them must band together to work on a dangerous project that could turn the tide of the war. Thrilled that she gets to contribute to the war effort at least, Mina jumps headfirst into the world of cryptic messages, spycraft, and international intrigue. She, Lucas, and Andrew have to work quickly, because if they don't succeed, more soldiers will disappear into the darkness of war.
