Data Runner is Johnny Mnemonic plus Speed; a world where data is physically downloaded into a person, and then that person delivers it at breakneck speeds without ever stopping. It is like a Tom Cruise chase scene from beginning to end; arms and legs pump at a furious rate, it's full of intensity, and you have a smile on your face the whole time.

Data Runner (Data Runner #1) by Sam A. Patel

Data Runner is an interesting and novel prediction of the future of data. The premise that no electronic data is secure on the web sets up a society in which to secure privacy is to physically control storage and transport. From that backdrop the characters are well developed and the story-line is well written.

Today I want to show you a watch modification that I've been working on. I'm calling it the Data Runner, and it's another F91W mod, this time going the extra mile to make something functional and nice looking. Like the previous mods that you may have seen me do, this is based on the Casio F91W, and that's down to the fact that it's THE standard for an inexpensive digital watch, striking a good balance between price, features, build quality, and worldwide availability.

I hope it'll be mandatory to have a data runner find a player who has a bounty on him first, before you get a track on a wanted player across the entire galaxy. Would mean bounty hunters would want to hook up with data runners for some quick cash on both their ends, since I assume data running ships won't have the best firepower to just get the ...
