Urban Dictionary: That's the tea

I'm the same way, tea alone just doesn't provide enough flavor for me unless I add lemon and/or honey/sugar. You COULD make it stronger, then you'd be able to taste it, but from the look of how you seem to taste things like tea the same way I do it probably wouldn't taste very good without some sort of sweetener. 1 0.

For your first time making tea, choose a low alpha acid hop that you enjoy and add a small amount (about a quarter ounce for 8 ounces of tea should be ample) to a tea ball, strainer, or French Press. For teamaking purposes, I highly recommend using whole cone hops, though you can make tea with pellets, as well. Pellets can cause a problem when using a French Press, as the hop materials can pass through the screen.

Some tea companies do put things in their tea... like " natural " flavors... to enhance the flavor of the tea. Others probably just take the time to use the mintiest mint and harvest it at just the right time for the best flavor. Personally, I don ' t like my mint tea to be shockingly minty to this ratio works for me.
