covers important topics such as the development of DNP clinical competencies, performance objectives, utilizing evidence-based practice, a DNP approach to adolescent care, caring for the chronically ill, mental health care, adult health care, and many more. The main purpose of this book is to provide DNP faculty and students with a reliable and detailed guide to use when implementing a format to document care provided. The case narratives presented in this book differ from the traditional case study format: students delineate all aspects of the decision-making process, identify the evidence that supports the decision, discuss the robustness of the evidence, analyze the effectiveness of the clinical decision, and critically reflect on the overall case. This detailed format captures the complexity and details of clinical practice. Key Features: Incorporates descriptive narratives that help readers understand the complex cognitive processes employed discussion for clinical oncologists, epidemiologists, nurses, healthcare administrators, researchers, and scholars alike. This section of the book draws on expert insights from clinical medicine and a number of disciplinary fields, including history of medicine, medical sociology, medical psychology, medicine and culture, and the politics of health care. Also included are valuable and fascinating narratives case studies from patients, doctors, and family members who have experienced medical errors in clinical oncology. The second, larger section of the book deals specifically with medical errors in clinical oncology practice, with particular emphasis on recognizing their origins (e.g., system versus individual), epidemiology and patient safety, the prevention of errors, quality improvement in treatment, and the disclosure of error. This section of the book serves as an indispensable handbook for all clinical oncologists, their staff, nurses, and oncology
